

Submission of TOEFL or TOEIC Score

For the Fiscal Year 2028 (examinations held in FY 2027) entrance examinations for the Department of Chemistry, Graduate School of Science, The University of Tokyo (Master's and Doctoral programs), no on-site English examination will be administered. Applicants must take either the TOEFL or TOEIC test in advance and submit their scores to the Department within the application period.

[Scores Used for the Entrance Examination]

- ◆ You may submit one official score from either the TOEFL iBT or the TOEIC Listening & Reading Public Test (TOEIC L&R; hereinafter referred to as "TOEIC").
 - TOEFL iBT : on-site test only; Home Edition not accepted; Mybest score not used
 - TOEIC : taken within Japan only
- ◆ Scores are valid only if the Test Date is September 1, 2025, or later.
- ◆ You must complete the following two procedures by the application deadline. If these procedures are not completed, your English score may be treated as zero (0 points).
 1. Complete the score-sending procedure to this Department on the test administrator's official website.
 2. Register your test date and score on the Graduate School's Online Application System, and upload either of the following documents:
 - For TOEFL: Test Taker Score Report
 - For TOEIC: Digital Official Score Certificate
- ◆ The Department will use the score verified on the test administrator's website based on the information registered at the time of application.
- ◆ Applicants may register only one score.
- ◆ English proficiency tests should be taken well in advance, as score reporting may be delayed or tests may be rescheduled due to administrative or technical issues.
